Teen Pleads Guilty to Vehicular Homicide

An 18-year-old boy pleaded guilty Tuesday in Broomfield County District Court to one count of vehicular homicide (F4) in the death of 16-year old Chad Britton in 2014.

The teen, who was 17 at the time of the offense, was charged as a juvenile with vehicular homicide, DUI and other traffic and petty drug offenses after the November 3, 2014 incident.

The teen, who had his driver's license for six days, struck Britton with his vehicle while Britton was standing outside his vehicle in the 1200 block of Daphne Street outside Broomfield High School. He had been smoking marijuana.

The teen was adjudicated delinquent and his sentencing hearing is set for 9 a.m. April 8 in Division A of the Broomfield County District Court.
