Man Pleads Guilty in Attack on 79-year-old Woman in Broomfield

Donald McMillian pleaded guilty Friday to assault, kidnapping and attempted sexual assault in an attack on a 79-year-old woman in Broomfield last March.

The woman was stabbed and assaulted at a pedestrian underpass at Sheridan Boulevard and Highland Park Drive while walking her dog March 20.

McMillian (DOB 11/06/74) pleaded guilty to first-degree assault of an at-risk elder (F2), second-degree kidnapping with a deadly weapon (F3) and attempted sexual assault (F5) in a plea agreement that calls for a 52-year stipulated sentence.

McMillian entered his guilty plea in Broomfield District Court. Sentencing is set for 1:30 p.m. on September 6 in Division A.
